State Officials Eye Situation In Argentina

Latest Government Shakeup May Raise Questions Affecting Security

RAMIREZ FORCED OUT

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Feb. 25—(AP)—Acting Secretary of State Stettinius admitted concern today over the latest government shakeup in Argentina and said it possibly might raise questions "affecting the security of the hemisphere."

If such questions are raised, Stettinius told a news conference, they may lead to an exchange of views among the American republics. Such an exchange was held prior to the decision reached by the United States and all other American nations except Argentina last month to withhold recognition of Bolivia.

Montevideo, Uruguay, Feb. 25—(AP)—A reactionary army clique opposed to Argentina's break with the Axis forced President Pedro Ramirez to delegate his presidential powers to Vice President Edelmiro J. Farrell today in what was regarded as another palace coup.

Gen. Farrell is an intimate friends of Col. Juan Domingo Peron, secretary of labor and welfare in the Ramirez government and frequently mentioned as the mainspring of the reactionary "GOU"—or "Colonels' Group." Only last week the "GOU" had been credited with forcing the resignation of Foreign Minister Alberto Gilbert following reports that he favored a declaration of war against Germany.

Rigid censorship was clamped down immediately at Buenos Aires and only the announcements that Ramirez had not resigned. Velazcos statements and a few press reports filtered through.

LIGHT ATTACK BEATEN BACK AROUND ANZIO

Hitler Now Said to Have Ten Divisions Facing Americans and British on Italian Front

ENEMY LOSES HEAVILY

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK

Allied Headquarters, Naples, Feb. 25—(AP)—German forces ringing the Anzio beachhead, now swollen to 10 divisions, pecked at American-British lines yesterday in two fruitless attacks southwest of Carroceto as the Fifth Army steadily improved its positions on Monte Abate a mile and a half east of Terelle on the Cassino front, but artillery fire broke up the thrust, and on the lower Garigliano sector German probing attempts were blocked.

Despite a seven-inch snowfall in the mountains around Cassino, Allied troops improved their positions on Monte Castellone in the mountains west of the village of Cairo, midway between Cassino and Terelle.

The new German division added to the nine which have been containing the Anzio beachhead for some days was said to have been brought from northern Italy. It was identified as the 363nd Infantry.

The two beachhead attacks were launched by only a company of infantry in each case—usually about 200 men. They were repulsed with heavy losses to the enemy, it was announced.

Allied artillery got the range of a German tank concentration near the so-called factory in the Carroceto area and forced it to disperse.

Although the Germans maintained close contact against the Allied beachhead, the passing of another day, the fifth, without major developments gave the Fifth Army valuable time to strengthen its defenses against an expected third full-scale German offensive.

The Germans continued to make a number of nuisance infiltrations around Allied outposts south of the Nazis' main rallying point at Carroceto, but a Fifth Army spokesman said these were being kept under control.

Patrols sent out by the British Eighth Army found German positionstions still firm. Allied mortar fire tore into a considerable German movement in the Arielli area inland from the Adriatic coast.

COMMODITY CREDIT IS EXTENDED FOR A YEAR

Washington, Feb. 25—(AP)—Only the president's signature was needed today to revive the technically defunct Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) which expired legally Feb. 17. Both the house and senate have agreed that it should continue in existence at least until June 30, 1945.

An unsuccessful attempt to revive the anti-subsidy issue as part of the CCC extension was made in the house yesterday but Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich) warns that the fight against federal payments is not over.

Saturday Is Third Anniversary Of Departure Of Company "I"

Three years ago on February 26, Company I, 112th Regiment, marched out of their armory on Hickory street and responded to the call to war. The men were busy at the armory all day before their departure and they were given a royal farewell by the citizenry of the town. There was an escort provided for the men to the special train, including the VFW band, the high school band, American Legionnaires, members of former companies and members of the Citizens Farewell Committee. Each member of the company was given a package containing gum, cigarettes, candy, etc., purchased through funds raised by public subscription.

Company I, 112th, has been in continuous training since that time and many of its men have not been furloughed home since they left. Due to the excellent training of the men under their old commander, Governor Edward Martin, scores of them have been detached from the original company and are now serving as officers in other commands, so that the roster of the company that marched out from here now contains the names of but few Warren men.

"Barkley a Great American"—in 1938

(NEA Telephoto)

Typifying President Roosevelt's long friendship with Senator Alben Barkley up to Barkley's announcement he would resign the senate Democratic leadership over FDR's veto of the tax bill is this picture showing the president and Barkley on a train platform in Kentucky in 1938. Campaigning for Barkley at that time, the president praiser him as "a great American of whom the nation is proud."

Higher Postal Rates Start In Thirty Days

Washington, Feb. 25—(AP)—The nation's tax bill was increased by $2,300,000,000 to a new record total of over $42,000,000,000 annually today as the senate followed the house in overriding President Roosevelt's veto of the second wartime revenue act.

First general effects of the new legislation will be felt when higher postal rates become effective 30 days hence.

The legislation has no effect whatever on the individual income tax returns due by March 15 on 1943 income.

Deadlock In Russo-Polish Negotiations

By JUDSON O'QUINN

London, Feb. 25—(AP)—The Polish government-in-exile was reported today to have sent to Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden a refusal to accept the Curzon line as a future Polish-Russian frontier and to have expressed displeasure at Prime Minister Churchill's support of the Soviet demands.

The semi-official Polish newspaper Dziennik Polski, which said yesterday the Curzon line was not acceptable, intimated that the Soviet-Polish dispute had reached an impasse and that marked differences had arisen between the British and Polish governments over the boundary dispute.

Marshal Stalin's rejection of the latest compromise offer of the Polish government in London was regarded as an almost foregone conclusion. The Russian reply to a proposal for the boundaries, reportedly transmitted by Churchill, is expected to restate Soviet insistance for acceptance now of the Curzon line and some reshuffling of the Polish cabinet.

Britain's Capital Bombed Fifth Time

London, Feb. 25—(AP)—Londoners flocked into underground shelters again last night as German bombers attacked the capital for the fifty time in six nights, cutting deep new wounds into the city's scarred face.

The raiders, coming in high—apparently from three directions—showered incendiaries and explosives over a fairly wide area, causing a number of casualties and considerable property damage. Ten were shot down during the pre-midnight attack.

Prime Minister Churchill, visiting the scene of one big fire where a number of houses and two restaurants were demolished, repeatedly raised his fingers in the "V" sign and told spectators who crowded around: "We'll stick it out and give it."

Many casualties apparently resulted when a dance hall was hit.

National Forge Establishes Farseeing Retirement Plan

Another broad-gauged benefit of long range value to all workers of the National Forge and Ordnance Company was announced today by President John C. Harringtno. This latest development at National Forge consists of an Employes' Retirement System which will be operated entirely at the company's expense without any participating costs or contributions from the personnel of the National Forge organization.

The retirement plan has been adopted by the management as a further extension of other employee benefit plans which already include contributory group life insurance, accident and hospitalization protection.

The new retirement plan was established effective as of August 1, 1942, and it takes into consideration not only present and future service, but also service rendered by employees of the National Forge and Ordnance Company prior to the date of establishment.

The system provides a retirement allowance for life to every employee who, after more than five years service, retires upon reaching the age of 65. The allowance is payable for life but in case a retired employee dies before receiving 120 monthly payments, his beneficiary will receive his payments until the total payments cover 120 months.

Employees who retire with the consent of the Company between the ages of 55 and 65 also will be

Sixth Day Of Aerial Raids Deep In Reich

London, Feb. 25—(AP)—Great formations of American heavy bombers carried the unprecedented Allied aerial offensive thundering through its sixth day today with smashes deep within Germany at aircraft production plants at Regensburg, Stuttgart, and other targets.

The heavy daylight assault carried the mighty offensive racing on round the clock after the RAF took up the two-way scourge of Nazi plane production last night in a 1,000-plane raid from Britain on Schweinfurt and sent other formations from Italy to attack Steyr, in Austria.

Both Schweinfurt and Steyr were already burning from the Thursday two-way attack by American heavy bombers based in Britain and Italy.

Returning crewmen, who said the bombings were done usually, reported good results today.

All targets of the daylight assault were deep inside Germany with the assault on Regensburg, in southern Germany, requiring a roundtrip flight of more than 1,100 miles.

Washington, Feb. 25—(AP)—A sharp decline in the supplies of heating oils was reported by Ralph K. Davies, acting petroleum administrator for war.

Bandits Who Robbed Police Still At Large

Huntingdon, Feb. 25—(AP)—Two bandits robbed two state policemen of their guns after trapping them in a Penn Street rooming house here last night, then fled westward on Route 22 in a sedan bearing California license plates.

Major Charles C. Keller, head of the Harrisburg squadron, who came here today to direct an intensive man-hunt for the bandits, said the policemen were Privates Ray Blyler and Roy Bailey, of the Huntingdon barracks.

Major Keller told this story:

Blyler and Bailey were on duty stopping automobiles for a routine check of operator's licenses at a point three miles west of Huntingdon, when the California car drove up with two men in it and a small chow dog in the rear.

The policemen asked to see a driver's license and were told it had been left behind in a room in Huntingdon. The two men were ordered to drive back for it and the officers followed in their car.

At the rooming house, Keller said, the policemen followed the men inside and when they stepped into the room, the bandits "pulled a gun on them," took their police weapons and left them in the room.

While the bandits were tying the policemen, Keller said the proprietor of the rooming house walked into the room. He, too, was left with the policemen—bound and gagged.

Armistice Demand On Finns Studied

Stockholm, Feb. 25—(AP)—Reported Russian terms for an armistice with Finland, especially those regarding the disposition of German troops garrisoned in northern Finland, are understood here to have met with a mixed reception in Finnish circles.

The London correspondent of Dagens Nyheter listed today six Soviet armistice demands from unofficial but well-informed non-British sources who he said were very optimistic about Finland's chances of quitting the war.

Against this optimistic approach was the statement of a trustworthy Finn just arrived in Sweden who said that Finland was profoundly disturbed by what is understood to be one of the Russian demands—that the Finnish army teamv up with the Russians in a drive to exterminate the seven German divisions now in Finland.

Barkley's Letter Is Opening Move For Return of Harmony

Communication Indicates Majority Leader Is Willing To Go Long Way to Smooth Out Turmoil Threatening Party

MEASURE PROVIDING $2,315,200,000 NOW LAW

By FRANCIS J. KELLY

Washington, Feb. 25—(AP)—Wits its galleries overflowing with curious spectators, a determined senate today climaxed the congressional revolt against President Roosevelt's tax bill veto by making the measure a law with votes to spare.

The overriding vote was announced by Vice President Wallace, presiding, as 72 to 14—or 16 more than the necessary two-thirds majority. At that instant the bill, which congressional sources estimate will yield about $2,315,000,000 in additional revenue annually, became law.

Majority Leader Barkley, principal figure in the drama as a result of his sharp denunciation of the president's veto message in the senate on Wednesday, stuck by his announced intention to vote to override Mr. Roosevelt.

The veto message sparked a congressional revolt which from the very start left scant doubt as to the final outcome of the tax bill, which the president called inadequate. The house acted quickly yesterday, setting aside the veto by a vote of 299 to 95.

Senator Hill (D-Ala), the majority whip, questioned the presence of a quorum as the session opened and the reading clerk began tolling the names of the members.

More than 60 senators were at their desks before he finished and others kept filing int the chamber during the reading of the message.

As the reading clerk finished there were cries of "vote," "vote" from the floor.

Within a few minutes after the vote was announced the galleries thinned and senators hurried to the cloakrooms.

There was so much confusion that those who sought the floor could get no attention.

Thus ended another act in the capital's most stirring political drama in years.

Senator Barkley's dramatic resignation as senate Democratic leader yesterday only furnished visual proof of a seemingly inveitable break between the White House and Capitol Hill. The senate Democrats promptly demonstrated a new independence by unanimously re-electing the genial, ruddy-faced Kentuckian to the position.

Barkley helped clear the atmosphere by dispatching a letter of friendship to President Roosevelt last night, but even the generally conciliatory tone of this missive did not completely bridge the gaping breach between the executive and legislative branches of the government. Barkley made it clear that in the future there must be cooperation both ways.

It was evident that Barkley was willing to go a long way to smooth out the turmoil which for 48 hours threatened to rip the Democratic party into dissident pieces at the beginning of a presidential campaign.

ONE AGAINST, ONE FOR!

Washington, Feb. 25—(AP)—Pennsylvania's senators split as usual in today's vote to override President Roosevelt's tax bill veto. Sen. Davis (R) voted for and Sen. Guffey (D) against overriding the veto.

PRESIDENT ON TRIP FOR A NEEDED REST

Secretary Early Reports Chief Executive Keeping In Closest Touch With White House

HEALTH IS UNIMPAIRED

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

With the Presidential Party, Feb. 25.—President Roosevelt, slow to shake off effects of a recent attack of influenza, is getting a measure of rest and relaxation away from politically stormy Washington.

The chief executive himself disclosed that he was out of town when he urged Senate Majority Leader Barkley not to resign in protest against the tax bill veto. No official explanation of his absence has been forthcoming.

Mr. Roosevelt, however, contracted influenza shortly after Christmas and the case was severe enough to drop his weight 10 pounds.

When a storm of revolt browe in congress over the tax veto and Barkley announced he was quitting as senate leader, White House reporters immediately followed the president out of town.

On only a few occasions since Pearl Harbor have reporters been invited to travel with the president.

In Washington, Stephen Early, presidential secretary, reported that Mr. Roosevelt was keeping in closest touch with the White

TRUCK DRIVER LOSES LIFE NEAR KITTANNING

Kittanning, Feb. 25—(AP)—A man tentatively identified as Earl Sauer, 28, of Mifflinburg, Pa., was burned to death today when he was trapped in the cab of his truck as it caught fire after an accident six miles east of here, Coroner C. M. Woodward reported.

State police said the truck struck a large hog at the foot of a long grade and sheared off ten guardrail posts and a utility pole after the driver lost control. It went over a 20-foot embankment as it caught fire, police said.

School Musicians Honored At Inspiring Concert Last Evening

The Honor Roll concert given by school musicians in Beaty gym last evening brought out one of the largest audiences of parents, friends and students to attend such an affair in some time. Particularly honored on this occasion were 89 former band and orchestra members who are now in their country's service and whose names appeared on the program and in these columns on Wednesday. It was learned during the evening that one other student, William Fredericks, was omitted from the roster.

Opening the program were three selections by the full high school concert orchestra under the direction of Harry Summers and interspersed with a violin concerto, No. 1 in A minor by J. B. Accolay, played by Nick Geracimos. This difficult composition was played in a manner very pleasing to the audience, whose applause brought a Victor Herbert work, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life", for an encore. The young player's accompaniments were ably done by Elanore Knupp.

Appearing next was the junior band, uniformly turned out in black and white, and amazing the listeners with presentation of four selections. Soloist in this group was Bruce Forsgren, clarinetist, was was accompanied by Mr. Summers for "An Old French Song" by Tschaikowski.

The second half of the program was done by the Dragon Band in uniform. Two selections were followed by a composition for reeds and Carol Kirberger, Joan Benigni and Jean Peterson as "Majorettes in Review".

Band and orchestra pins were presented to four seniors, James Glans, Bill Dobbs, James McCarthy and Donald Sontag, who are graduating at mid-year. A fifth, Walter Sigworth, is already at Allegheny College and will be sent his pin.

Concluding the program were two more works for the full band and the National Anthem. Mr. Summers expressed his own and the young musician's appreciation for the fine turnout.

Prominent Sportsmen To Visit Warren County Fox Hunters

Plans for the Warren Field and Stream Club fox hunt to be held Sunday, Feb. 27, have been completed and the committee expects, with favorable weather, the largest turnout of sportsman yet to attend a hunt The drives which have been lined up have been reviewed with Clyde Hanson, one of Warren's most successful fox trappers, and everyone who has had anything to do with the planning of the hunt feels that it will be a real success

The local club has learned that in addition to Arthur Grahame, writer for Outdoor Life Magazine, the hunt will also be covered by Hayes Englert, Game Supervisor of the nine counties of Pennsylvania, which are referred to as "Division F", and also by George Burdick, Game Land manager.

As previously announced, sportsmen are requested to meet at Finley's Sporting Goods Store at 10:00 a. m. and to bring their own coffee cups. The committee will not be able to supply cups so if you want coffee be sure to bring a coffee cup. The hunt will take place out of Russell and sportsmen who find it more convenient to do so, may meet the Warren group at Russell about 10:15.

The committee again wishes to remind all men who plan to participate in the hunt to wear their hunting licenses, and to bring shot guns only. Rifles will not be permitted.

Fish Commission Finds Cure For Bad Case of Liver Trouble

By RALPH E. WALLIS

Harrisburg, Feb. 25—(AP)—The Pennsylvania Fish Commission boasts a $95,000 cure for a bad case of liver trouble—brought on by an attack of meat rationing.

It takes about 25 to 30 per cent liver in the diet to raise healthy fish and last year when the government decided to ask ration points for meat, Fish Commissioner Charles A. French was faced with the prospect of getting an annual stock of 500,000 pounds of liver.

"We finally justified our need for liver and got the stamps," he said, "However, when we went to get the liver we found it wasn't available in the quantities we wanted."

About this time, French added, the commission had been experimenting with possible substitutes for liver and came across one which seemed to work satisfactorily—"bef belts," described as part of cattle spleens.

FIGHTING ON LAND AND SEA

"Water Buffalo" amphibian tanks, made by Food Machinery Corporation in plants at San Jose and Riverside, California, and Lakeland, Fla., are credited with taking Makin Island. These vehicles, military authorities say, have at least partially solved the problem of getting Allied manpower onto hundreds of beaches now held by the Japs.

A PLUG FOR BOY SCOUTS

Hundreds of volunteer workers had scoured the county, and then the Warren County Boy Scouts said, "How about letting us help in the 4th War Loan?"

With a quiet smile the Warren County War Finance Committee gave the Scouts their blessing, but they weren't counting on much. Hadn't the county been combed and recombed by the workers?

Then the Scouts got busy, and they didn't let anything like the deepest and heaviest snow in many a year keep them from going out and contacting the people of Warren county.

The results? You'll be amazed. The figures aren't final yet, and won't be until February 29. But through today these hard-working Scouts have secured 106 pledges for "E" Bond sales totaling $11,330.00.

Warren County can take justifiable pride in this accomplishment by her young citizens. If the Scouts haven't called on you yet, better take a tip from that Boy Scout motto "Be Prepared", and be prepared to sign up for an extra "E" Bond when you are visited.

Tenderfeet, Second Class—all Warren County Boy Scouts—you've done a "First Class" job and Warren County is proud of you.

OVERABUNDANCE OF CABBAGE

Considering the scarcity of sauerkraut during the early winter months and the high ration value placed on it it is amusing to read the following sent out by a Washington correspondent:

Cabbage soup, fried cabbage, stuffed cabbage, and cole slaw—not all at once—but those are a few of the ways the War Food Administration suggests you use up the abundance of cabbage on hand. Somehow or other the winter crop of cabbage is 52 per cent more than the record 1942 crop. In that year 97,000 tons of cabbage were not harvested. Such waste of food and manpower must certainly be avoided in wartime. A lot of surplus is going into sauerkraut, but you'll have to do something about keeping fresh cabbage moving out of markets, so more can move in from the farms.

An event of great importance to a couple hundred dads and sons, to say nothing about mothers and sisters who have had to make other arrangements for dinner this evening is the annual Father and Sons banquet at the Y. M. C. A. Those in charge have arranged an entertaining program and a good time is assured.

Remember three years ago tomorrow evening? Too many may have forgotten! That was the night Company I, 112th Infantry, paraded to the depot and boarded a train for Indiantown Gap. Go to church Sunday and pray for their safe return home.

It's the ghost that walks on payday, but the collector who haunts you.

Where are the Indians with the sassafras?

IS IT NOTHING TO YOU?

Text: "It is nothing to you, all ye that pass by?"—Lamentations, 1:12.

Twenty-five hundred years ago Jeremiah bewailed the fated wreckage of Jerusalem, so recently one of the fair cities of earth. Gone were glorious Temple, beautiful palace, mighty wall; there remained but heaps of rubbish, bearing silent witness to the inevitable pay-day of Sin! Pointing to the ruins of his unrepentant city, Jeremiah cries out to his yet-unheeding world: "Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?" Across centuries freighted with tears he pleads tonight to our own time and town.

"Is it nothing to you—that 'Christ bore our sins in His own body on the Tree'" (I Peter, 2:24). Stand with me beneath that Cross upon which Jesus died that death, transforming the earthly life and eternal destiny of millions of men. Shudder at the blasphemous sneer of Pharisee; disgustedly turn from callous gamble of brutal executioner; watch with yours the tears of "His Own"; treasure in your soul the words of divine forgiveness, of eternal assurance, of filial concern, of spiritual loneliness, of bodily torture, of triumphant victory, of serene committal, as they fall from the lips of the Lamb of God. With a brush of pain dipped in the blood of His Spotless Son, God has painted upon the canvas of Calvary a portrait of Redeeming Love for all men. 'Can you face that portrait and say, "It is nothing to me!"

"Is it nothing to you—the patient, pleading ministry of the Holy Spirit, seeking your soul for Christ?" (John 16:7-14). By faithful pastor's preaching; by soul-winning Sunday school teacher's concern; by tender mother's night-long prayers; by godly father's grave advice; by disillusionments of Sin; by your heart's muted cry for inner peace—in all these ways the Holy Spirit seeks to lead you to Him who died to deliver you from the penalty, power, presence, and person of Sin. Can you retort to the Whispering Spirit, "It is nothing to me!"

"Is it nothing to you—'that every one of us will give an account of himself to God.'" (Romans 14:12). There is no refuge from the frowning face of this fateful fact, save at Calvary. Ignorance, hypocricies of church members, self-righteous morality and religious ritual, will not avail. O soul without Christ, you have a soul to save, a God to meet, an eternity to spend. IS IT NOTHING TO YOU?

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Capital political observers have a way of being wrong numerous times. Often they are too close to the woods and not close enough to the backwoods.

But three things have happened recently on which they are in pretty complete agreement:

(1) That President Roosevelt has made up his mind to run for the fourth term unless new factors are interposed between now and July 19, the recently set Democratic national convention date.

(2) That Wendell L. Willkie is gaining ground as the potential G.O.P. nominee.

(3) That Ohio Governor John W. Bricker didn't hurt himself a bit by his formal announcement of candidacy for the nomination and the round of speeches he made here in Washington.

TAKING these things in the order named, the new chairman of the Democratic national committee, Robert E. Hannegan, told me personally the other day that he had been misinterpreted by political writers when they concluded from his statement that the convention would only last three or four days that that meant it was all cut and dried. It may well be that he didn't have any such conclusion in mind when he said that the Democratic convention, opening on Wednesday, probably would be cleaned up by the week-end.

But one thing is certain. The President was consulted before that date was set. If he selected or even agreed to the midweek date, he felt pretty certain the convention would be cleaned up before Sunday. To run a convention needlessly over a week-end is to shoulder a fruitless expense and risk a loss of tempo and interest through a day or more of idleness. The only conclusion that could be drawn is that President Roosevelt himself felt there would be no important convention fight. There's very little reason to believe anything but that he has made up his mind to run.

Willkie's gains, not being tangible, are a little more difficult to explain, but some of the sager politicos put it this way: Willkie is active and has been for nearly four years; his strongest potential opponent, Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, is inactive. Governor Dewey, they say, is the only man who can "stop Willkie"—but not by staying in retirement in Albany or on his upstate New York farm, while Willkie is working night and day to consolidate his forces and bring a united front before the convention.

IT ISN'T necessarily concluded that Willkie will win the nomination but it is certain that while his opponents are wrangling over whether to line up behind Dewey, Bricker or General MacArthur Willkie is spending his 24 hours a day making political hay. Some here wouldn't be surprised if that "purely social" luncheon Willkie had with Governor Warren of California the other day wasn't a meeting of deep political significance. A Willkie-Warren coalition in the convention would be hard to beat.

Governor Bricker helped himself here mainly because he made an excellent impression. Tall, handsome, extremely personable, he managed also to say all the right things politically so far as the middle and conservative wings of the Republican party are concerned.

FLIGHT from LOVE

by JOHN C. FLEMING and LOIS EBY — AP Features

Chapter 22

FOR once Kay was cheerfully stubborn. "We can see the plane in the morning, kiddo."

"I want to see it now." Julie stopped scrubbing her arms and hands with the towel.

"But Jack's coming to dinner. Don't you think we ought to get home?"

"He'll be out there looking at it too. You know that."

Kay shrugged, and cried brightly to cover anxiety, "Okay. We'll give it the once over."

They joined the group of chattering workers who were going through the enormous hangar-like factory room to the door that led directly on the flying field.

Already the morning shift were in their places. As Julie passed by her jig, she saw a girl in a red hairnet and Hawaiian blouse wielding a rivet gun.

"There," Kay grinned at Julie's stare, "but for the grace of five minutes shifting time, "are you."

"Five minutes and a red hairnet," corrected Julie with a weak flash of spirit.

"Check!" laughed Kay. They had agreed on their shared aversion for the brilliant, yarn hairnets.

THE early morning mist was still close to the ground out on the field. The air was damp and ish after the smell of oil and hot metal that permeated the factory.

Five hundred yards off stood the Aleutian plane, surrounded by a milling crowd of workers. Kay and Julie moved along with the factory group to join them.

A voice over the loud speaker above the field was telling the history and exploits of the plane, the name of its pilot, the number of times it had engaged Jap fighters.

"It's the same recording they'll use in the bond drives," a stocky welder told them. "Swell speech, isn't it?"

Julie's fingers closed hard on Kay's arm as they came close to the stream-lined little fighter . . . and she could see the bullet-riddled wings, the battered fusilage the loudspeaker was describing.

She was seeing, too, those other words from the news article. "After his plane was riddled with enemy gunfire and burst into flames, Lieutenant Rutledge. . . ."

The morning sun found its way thru the mist now, and the plane gleamed.

From somewhere underneath it one of the guards crawled out. Behind him came the stooping figure of Jack Parker.

KAY cluckled drily. "He would be curled up in it somewhere," she said.

Jack saw them and made his way thru the crowd to them. "Did you see her row of rising suns?" he demanded. "Isn't she a honey?"

As she fought for control, her sick gaze fastened automatically on a portion of the scarred and bullet-ridden fusilage. Her eyes moved from rivet to rivet. Four across—eight down—two across—four across eight down—two across—

"Come on," Kay's voice carried cheerful authority. "We're going home. And if you want some food, Parker, you'll wheel out that chariot of yours post haste."

In ten minutes they drew up before the apartment. Julie leaped from the car. "I want to hear the radio reports," she said and fled up the stairs.

They listened to them while they ate breakfast. There were fragments of reports of the Attu battle — such heart-breakingly brief fragments.

Jack looked so mournfully sympathetic that Kay kicked him under the table.

"How're the new plans coming?" she asked cheerfully as she brought him an ashtray. Her gaze commanded him to talk.

Obediently he talked. At first he spoke aimlessly, but soon warmed automatically to the beloved subject. Of the beauty—the speed—the precision of the new models.

"I'm working on a—thing now," he was leaning over the table, his thin face glowing with eagerness, "that's really sumpin'. Boy, the possibilities in some of these new—when they're really utilized—after the war—revolutionize things—"

Kay sighed and rose to pour him more coffee. "That's what I like about your descriptions," she said wryly. "They're so definite. You always give us the facts and figures."

Julie smiled wanly. "I'm terribly afraid the FBI is going to be on your trail for your garrulousness," she teased.

Jack grinned sheepishly as he held up too fingers for sugar. "My roommate says—talk in my sleep," he said. "Tell everything I'm doing—and worrying about—but never mention facts or figures."

"It's an art," sighed Kay.

They sat waiting for the next radio report. Julie was tapping absently on the tablecloth with her knife. Unconsciously moving four across—eight down—two across—four across—eight down. . . .

Suddenly she looked up with a sudden startled expression, her hand poised above the table with the knife.

"The plane we saw today—" she questioned, "did Empire build it?"

JACK regarded her with mild surprise. "Sure," he said. "That's why they landed it on our landing field."

Julie's hand had clenched around the knife until her knuckles were white. "Then," she said slowly, "we built David's ship, too."

Jack nodded. "Both were from job D-23."

Julie's eyes were wide with startled wonder, her lips parted in an awed smile. "I—worked on job D-23," she whispered. "That's why that one piece in the fusilage looked so familiar. Somehow—I never thought of my work actually holding part of a plane together. . . ." Her eyes moved slowly from Jack's face to Kay's. "Maybe holding—Dave's plane together."

Kay breathed a silent prayer of relief.

No Applicants For Position Of Fire Chief

Inquiry of Harold Hampson, chairman of the Fire Committee of the Town Council today develops the fact that as yet no applications have been received for the position of Fire Chief of the boruogh. Technically D. G. Kropf is still chief inasmuch as his resignation is not effective until March 1st., although he is still out of the city due to an effort to recuperate his health.

Just what action will be taken in filling of the vacancy either by promoting one of the ranking men of the local department into the chieftainship or whether a man will be brought in from out of town to fill the position is not known. Mr. Hampson stated that the committee, as yet, has not given the matter much consideration.

There will be no attempt made by a recommendation of the fire committee at the March meeting of Council to fill the position.

As yet there has been no announcement made as to what Mr. Kropf intends to do upon his return to the city although it has been made known that he will not leave Warren.

HEAVYWEIGHTS BACK IN GARDEN TONIGHT

New York, Feb. 25—(AP)—Heavyweights chase the lightweights out of Madison Square Garden tonight for the first time this year when Tami Mauriello, bronx contender, collides in a 10-rounder with Joe Baksi, rugged graduate of Kulpmont Pa's hard coal fields.

Mauriello, a more-experienced battler than Baksi, is a 5 to 8 public choice but Mike Jacobs expects 12.00 of the curious to pay $50,000 to see if the coal miner can make good on his first big time shot.

MOTIF FOR DODGERS REVEALED BY RICKEY

New York, Feb. 25—(AP)—Branch Rickey of the Brooklyn Dodgers has added a style show to his weekly press conferences.

When the scribes assembled to hear the latest word on the player situation, Rickey presented eye-dazzling versions of what the well dressed ball player will wear at night games. The motif is white for the home games and blue trimmed with white on the road.

Rickey explanied, "night games are here to stay. We might as well dress for them."

Chuck Klein Working Out For Comeback

By ED CREAGH

Philadelphia, Feb. 25—(AP)—Charles Herbert Klein shed his clothes, ris dignity and several pounds today in a determined—not to say violent—attempt to prove that he's still rugged enough at 39, to knock the hide off anything a National League pitcher can throw.

The hard-hitting Hoosier is so serious about his comeback as a player that he made the acquaintance of a rowing machine, lifted a flock of weights, pedalled an imaginary half-mile on an elevated bicycle and even submitted to incarceration in a steam cabinet.

And although this display of pre-pre-season training might cost the Phillies front office money, on the theory that a batter is worth more than a coach, General Manager Herb Pennock—who once staged a similar demonstration to wangle a raise from the New York Yankees—looked on with beaming approval.

THE GOVERNMENT TURNED to the women of America because (1) the Far East islands that supplied a thousand million pounds of fats and oils each year were captured by the Japs right after Pearl Harbor; and because (2) at least five hundred million pounds of fats, rich in glycerine, were being thrown away in American kitchens.

What is this thing called Radio?

WHAT is this thing called radio?

Is it that magical box of wood and wire and tubes and dials? . . . Yes . . . but radio is more . . . much more.

Radio is the farmer at eventide—his eyes glancing apprehensively to the sky.

It is the mother, with "V" mail overdue, every fiber of her being eagerly awaiting word of the 5th Army.

Radio is music at the close of a hard-pressed day.

It is the speech in the town hall—given a national audience.

Radio is song and literature and statecraft —letters and manifestoes brought to the intimacy of your living room for you to hear, digest, accept or reject.

It is the plaint of people who are suffering and the glorious voices of free men released from slavery.

It is the cry of hunger across the seas and the song of plenty in America.

Radio is life.

It is around the corner—it is national—it is global.

Radio is America—with sound.

You are the reason actors step to the microphone and pour out every ounce of their talent. Yes—every second of radio broadcasting from every spot on the earth is directed at you. And so you are the power that gives direction to the stations of the Blue Network—and to the world.

THIS FIGHTER WEIGHS IN AT

8 TONS

ON OUR SCALES

AS YOU would see him on a scale, he would weigh 180 pounds of bone, muscle and fighting energy—a fine specimen of American manhood. But on the scales of the Army—and the Railroads—his "fighting weight" is...8 tons.

This is why: the equipment, supplies, ammunition, food and other items required for every man going overseas average close to 8 tons. What is more, he needs a ton a month of all these things as long as he is over there. Or, just twice as much a day as the soldier in World War I.

So, you see, the railroad's job isn't only moving troops —but all they require, too. Therefore, if you should find travel not all that it used to be, the Pennsylvania Railroad asks you kindly to remember the above facts. We are doing our best to serve you. But military needs must come first, as all Americans would have it.

100th Anniversary Of Wilcox Woman

Mrs. Carl Parson, of Wilcox, celebrated her 100th birthday anniversary at her home on Thursday, her daughter, Miss Esther Parson, entertaining with open house from two until five.

Refreshments were served by the Ladies' Aid of the Swedish Mission church. Mrs. Hagberg, wife of Rev. Hagberg, presided at the table attractively decorated and centered with a beautiful three-tiered cake.

Mrs. Parson came from Sweden in 1880 and settled in Wilcox, residing there since. She was a charter member of the Swedish Mission church and in August, 1943, was able to attend the 50th jubilee of the church and take part in the program.

She has been enjoying fairly good health and is able to be about the house each day. She received a profusion of cards and beautiful flowers and was presented with a purse of money by neighbors and friends.

Besides her daughter, Miss Esther, she has a son, Albin, of Ridgway, and two grandsons serving overseas.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Henry Lersen and sons and Mrs. Elvis Sanden and son, of North Warren.

Many Activities At 22nd Anniversary Of VFW Auxiliary

Members of the Woman's Auxiliary, V. F. W., met last evening at 6:30 o'clock in the post rooms for a tureen dinner and 22nd anniversary celebration.

The hospital chairman made a report on the Valentine party held last Saturday at the State Hospital when inmates were served ice cream and cigarettes and given valentines.

A report was made by the essay chairman, Zella Wood, that the contest will be held again this year in the high school. The essay, always on Americanism, must be in before the 15th of April.

A donation was made toward furnishings in the new office in Harrisburg. A committee reported that a letter was received from Bechtel that he has received the books and magazines sent him and sends a request for more.

It was stated that since a new service flag is being prepared, all auxiliary members are asked to hand in names of sons, daughters and husbands in the service.

There were eleven new candidates: Esther Branch, Florence Knupp, Florence Lord, Dorothy Mack, Dollie Cummings, Adda Hulings, Dora Kippel, Ruth Jackson, Nellie Patchen, Edith Agren.

The highlight of the evening was when a committee of four men from the post, Past Commander Ross Wood, Edward Mason, R. J. Pring and Tom Farrell appeared to present the auxiliary with a $1000 war bond. Fifteen years ago the auxiliary gave the Post $50 to help them through an emergency. Last evening it was returned with interest.

The evening was concluded with a play, "Crossing the Tracks". Those participating were: Clara Schuler, Zella Wood, Garnet Stewart, Gertrude Fitch, Edith Simonsen and Gladys Eckman.

The next meeting will be March 9th.

Another Success Chalked Up For Pupils Story Hour

Children of the borough school grades one to six assembled in the Public Library building Thursday afternoon at four o'clock for the second in the series of children's story hours.

Again there was an attendance of more than 300 youngsters with every chair, window sill and sections of the floor occupied by the pupils. The unexpected turnout for the first story period two weeks ago had taxed facilities of the building and new plans had to be worked out for their handling on Thursday.

Mrs. Gerald Archibald pleased the group with two well selected stories, one concerning the elephant's child and how he got his long trunk, the other, a humorous Swedish story of a tramp, an old lady and a pot of soup made from a nail.

The next story is announced for March 9.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

SOMETIME before the publication of "Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep," by Ludwig Bemelmans, we asked the author what his novel was about. "Well," he said, "it's not written exactly to formula. The hero is an eighty-year-old South American general subject to epileptic fits, and the heroine is an English woman of sixty-five who carries her coffin with her wherever she goes."

LUDWIG BEMELMANS

To say that "Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep" is not written to formula is putting it mildly. This latest Book-of-the-Month Club offering differs from the typical girl-meets-boy type of fiction as a black orchid from a dandelion. Those who read it for simple entertainment will find it often hilarious. And those who read it for its underlying satire and philosophic content will find much to ponder.

The story tells of General Leonidas Erosa, whose fortune comes from vast properties in South America that he has never bothered to look over, and who up until the time of the war lives in opulent luxury in Biarritz. He is finally made aware of the changing world when he discovers it is no longer possible for him to procure his favorite kind of paté de fois gras, which has always been sent him airmail from Czechoslovakia. When the General is told he must be satisfied with the inferior grade from Strasbourg, he realizes it is time for him to go.

So, with his most prized possessions, which include sixteen carpets, over a thousand cigars, and thirty-two cases of champagne, the General sets sail for New York. Among his vast entourage of servants and companions is Anselmo, the Indian, who cares for his three Great Danes, and who has a secret dream, never to be realized, of murdering his master. Then there is Miss Graves, the Englishwoman, whom the General has saved from drowning but who is still so obsessed with the subject of death that she will go nowhere without her coffin. And there is Monsieur Vitasse, the French chef, whose temper is unpredictable, but whose souffle d'écrevisses is invariably superb. And there is also Madame Lopez, the Spanish beauty.

Enough of Mr. Bemelmans' story. After all, you may want to read it yourself, and what's the fun if you know everything beforehand?

Moderated by FRED G. CLARK General Chairman American Economic Foundation

"WAKE UP, AMERICA!"

Is Centralized Government Destroying Local Democracy?

As debated by

Honorable Wesley E. Disney	Dr. Emil Lengyel
Congressman, 1st District, Oklahoma	Asst. Prof., School of Education, New York University; Author of "Turkey"; "Siberia"

CONG. DISNEY OPENS: The question would seem to answer itself if we look about us or study current or past history. Centralized government is the antithesis of local democracy. Statism is the antithesis of individual freedom. Centralized government is the pattern of totalitarianism or the authoritarian state. Obviously, statism and local self-government cannot exist autonomously in the same nation without the one destroys the other. Louis XIV's "I am the state" does not admit of local self-rule, individual freedom or local democracy. These statements sound like truisms, but they are the fruit of history. The framers of the Constitution were convinced centralized government and local democracy were not compatible. They were determined that government should be diffused amongst the people and built a foundation creating the federal government, but of limited powers. Democracy is not located in Washington. It has no place in those marble halls. It does exist down in the school boards, the justice of peace courts, the court houses, the state legislatures. It cannot be transferred to Washington. If it could be, it would cease to exist. Among the people, in the breasts of the people, rests democracy. Democracy is dependent on the ability of the average man to reflect sound judgment, and of his representatives to activate that judgment into legislation.

DR. LENGYEL CHALLENGES: Centralized government is not an aim in itself, but a trend. Modern life is far more centralized—more highly organized—than life in the past. Centralization is merely a mold, not the substance. It may be filled with either democratic or non-democratic substance. Switzerland, one of the old democracies, moves toward centralization, as does the U. S. Great Britain, highly centralized, is a democracy. The Scandinavian countries, the best types of democracies, have long been centralized. Republican France was centralized and democratic. The anarchists used to stand for highly decentralized, self-contained units—for good reasons. In this world of speed, a high degree of decentralization would lead to anarchy.

CONG. DISNEY REPLIES: The Scandinavian-Swiss-British concepts of democracy are not our concept of pure democracy. Their achievements do not match ours. Under the Bill of Rights, the American ideal has been freedom of the individual, necessarily implying freedom of local self-government. For what purpose? For the sake of the liberty of the individual. Woodrow Wilson wisely stated—"the history of liberty is the history of the limitation on government." Centralized government grows stronger feeding on its own strength. It abhors limitations. Statism knows no bounds nor limitations. That is not pure democracy. I insist historical facts prove local democracy dies under centralized authority.

DR. LENGYEL OPENS: To think that only local government is democratic is a mistake. Certainly it is not true of England, was not true of republican France; the freedom loving Scandinavian countries—all centralized. It was the mayor of an American city, not the President of the U. S., who declared: "I am the law." Local government necessarily shrinks as the globe's surface shrinks. Obviously, it was extensive when an English county was a vast territory. Today, from your airplane, it is a speck on the map. Local democracy is part of the central democracy—not its enemy. With the interconnection of local interests, self-sufficient local democracy actually defeats the aims of real democracy—the execution of the will of the people. It cannot be the real will of the people to mutilate it by retaining traditional units because they were useful in the stagecoach era. Far from being the enemy of local democracy, centralized government, conducted in the real democratic spirit, strengthens local democracy by placing behind it strong government resources. Democracy is far easier to safeguard in the central government, which citizens can watch with great vigilance, because it occupies a central position. Local government does not; hence, it is easier for local autocrats to falsify the people's will.

CONG. DISNEY CHALLENGES: It is impossible to have both a centralized, powerful administrative federal system and a free play of individualism in local self-government. History proves democratic tendencies have been destroyed by centralized authority. When the Roman Republic faded by degeneration of the Senate, local democracy died, tyrannical dictatorships succeeded. In modern Italy when centralization through Fascism took over, local democracy and individual freedom died. When legislative authority failed in Germany, all government was centralized in the dictator. What good did it do the people to watch this monster grow without a voice in its growth? How could local self-government assert itself? What became of individual rights?

DR. LENGYEL REPLIES: When there were more than ten million unemployed in the U. S., local democracy was reduced to flashing SOS signals to Washington. Luckily, the fathers of the country foresaw the future and made provisions for centralized action through the "general welfare" clause. Without such centralized action, there would have been revolution in the country. Modern government is big business, the business of the people. Modern times call for the efficiency of large organization and not for the "local democracy" of the village smithy. May I also remind Congressman Disney that the Roman Senate was never a pillar of local democracy; centralization did not precede Fascism, and Germany never had a real democracy.

overed on reaching the age of 65, r upon retirement at a reduced llowance. Any employee, with en years of creditable service, who s totally and permanently incapcitated before the age of 65, will eceive the benefits of the plan mmediately.

Optional benefits are provided hereby an employee at retirement may arrange to take a reuced allowance for his lifetime nd have his allowance or some art of it continued to a beneficiry selected at retirement should uch beneficiary survive him. The lan in no way interferes with Soal Security but supplements the urposes of Social Security in a ighly material manner.

Mr. Harrington's letter announcng the plan is quoted below:

o the Employees of the National Forge and Ordnance Company:

The officers and Board of Direcors of the National Forge and rdnance Company are pleased to nnounce that your Company has stablished an Employees Retirement Plan, effective as of August 1942, for the benefit of all emoyees of the Company. The lan gives credit not only for prent and future services but also r services rendered by an emoyee of the National Forge and rdnance Company prior to ugust 1, 1942. Unlike most reement plans, it will not require ntributions by the employee embers. Moreover, its benefits e in addition to your Social Serity rights.

The enclosed booklets explain e principal features of the Plan d describe briefly the benefits hich you and your family may pect from it. We sincerely urge u to rea dthe booklets carefully d to pass them on to members your family. If there is anying in them which does not seem be clear to you, do not hesitate ask questions about it.

The officers and directors of your Company have given a great deal of thought over an extended period of time, to the establishment of this Employees Retirement System. Pension plans of many companies throughout the various parts of the United States were carefully analyzed and thoroughly studied with the view of finding the best plan to provide for the comfort and security of the employees of the Company and their beneficiaries.

There are two things about this Plan which we would like to emphasize to you.

In the first place, the Plan is a natural result of our method of doing business. We have never subscribed to the idea that the employees of a company should be on one side and the company on the other. On the contrary, this business is here to provide employees, stockholders and management with two things, a decent living today and reasonable security for the future.

Right now business throughout the country is good, because of the war, and many investors and wage earners are out to get all that they possibly can, with no thought about the future. But if a man makes an investment for himself and his family, he should select an investment which will produce a fair return not only this year but twenty years from now, instead of a "wild-cat" that will pay twenty percent today and end up in bankruptcy a few years later.

When an employee comes to work for this Company we hope that he will look on his job as an investment for his and the Company's future. That is why we place so much emphasis on our bonus system. That is why the Company has never deducted Social Security Taxes from your pay. That is why we are putting the Pension Plan into effect and paying it instead of asking you to share the cost. Your "take home" earnings today are high but more than that you have a share in the Company's future prospects and by this Plan protection for yourselves and your families against the problems of old age.

Other employers and many divisions of the Federal and State Government have pension and annuity plans, but in practically all cases the employee foots a large part of the bill. Plans of this type did not appeal to us because we felt that so long as we were all working together for the same business, the business should provide for all of us not only a present living but also future security.

The second thing about the Plan which we would like to mention is the fact that the amount of your benefits is dependent upon the length of your service with the Company.

The success of this Company today and twenty years from now depends upon the men who make it—yourselves. The man who works for ten years contributes more than the man who works for one, and has a greater stake in his job. Social Security benefits and your own seniority rules are based upon the principle. Moreover, every man who continues working for the Company has the same opportunity of accumulating the benefits which come to the employee of long service, so long as the Company continues and prospers.

For your information, the rules of the Plan provide for the appointment of a Retirement Board of five persons to administer the Retirement System. The members of this Board, appointed to serve from August 1, 1943, are: Mr. G. H. Stephenson, Chairman; Mr. J. C. Harrington, Vice-Chairman; Mr. D. P. Morgan, Secretary; Mr. R. E. Ludwig; and Mr. Alexander P. Reed.

The officers and Board of Directors in making this announcement express the hope that the Plan adopted will provide each and every employee with a satisfactory Retirement Income available at retirement age, or at an earlier period in the event of total disability from accident or illness. Further, the Company hopes it will continue to experience the same spirit of loyalty and cooperative endeavor which has in the past been demonstrated by the men and women of the National Forge and Ordnance Company.

In the last analysis it is your Plan and it can be continued only so long as you want it and work for it.

Booklets containing complete details on every phase of the plan's operation were given to each National Forge employee today.

County Heads Are Attending Conference

County Commissioners George Seavy, John Hanna and P. C. Ostergard left today for Pittsburgh where they will spend the night and go to Greensburg tomorrow morning to attaend a conference of county heads of several counties in this end of the state. They were accompanied by County Solicitor Alexander Flick, Jr., and Chief Assessor Gurney Ball.

The conference at Greensburg will be devoted largely to a discussion of new laws passed at the last session of the Legislature at Harrisburg. One of these relates to the newly created office of Chief Assessor, creation of which is mandatory on the counties by the legislation. Interpretation of the law relating to this office has been varied by many county solicitors and has excited much interest and comment over the state.

SPORTS of all sorts

(By Joe Gardner)

A signal honor has been bestowed on one of Warren's best known veterans of the diamond. Axel, "Pike" Peterson has been named chairman for Warren County on the Baseball Veterans Association of Pennsylvania.

Ira T. Hill, of Fittsburgh—a former pitcher for the old Baltimore Orioles—is president of the state-wide organization. Pete McCracken, a ten-second man in his prime and a headache to a great many catchers when on the basepaths, is the associations vice-president. Tom T. Andrews, of the Internal Revenue Department in Pittsburgh, the man to whom you present the results of your intensive gazing into that crystal ball called your Income tax, is the Associations secretary and treasurer.

This group of baseball veterans through their fine organization have done yeoman work in keeping old traditions alive, starting youngsters on the road to baseball fame and in general holding a protecting wing over baseball wherever it is played in Pennsylvania.

Once each year they meet in a general get-together in some little town or village for a picnic, a game between famous old timers, and for a general good time.

Why couldn't Warren be host to the Association this year? Tradition is here in wagon loads, besides the county has no peer when it comes to scenery and the old Allegheny speaks for itself.

The next time you see Chairman Peterson on the street or around a billiard table, put the bee on him to use his influence and his good offices to sound out Messrs. Hill and company on this matter.

We are certain that given the opportunity Warren countians would turn out en masse to vie with one another to do honor to the veterans of yesterday as well as enjoy the doings themselves.

Warren Faces Mighty Owls on Bradford Court At 8:30 Tonite

Warren starts in quest of the District 10 toga, of which they own a part right now, when they meet Cranberry on March 10 at Oil City and the winner of that game cashes with the winner of of the Erie-Sharon game at an undecided point.

But first, they must meet Bradford and Frankin, neither tilt having any bearing on their present position, but both battes that wil test them to the limit and have a lot to do with their outcome in the title race .

The toughest foe o fthe two is undoubtedly Bradford, and this is the night they must return the Owl's visit here. Warren suffered its third consecutive year of losing to the Owls on Beaty Court earlier in the season when they bowed 32-26 and the dope bucket man with the cain says they have No. 2 to lose tonight for 1944

Coach Brace has one of his trodditionally fine cage outfits again this year and has placed the outfit on top rating in the state with almost a certainty to make the state finals this season.

The game is slated for 8:30 tonight and if the Dragons can put on an exhibition comparable to some others this year, they may unload Bradford's third loss of the year into the Owl's lap, if not it may turn into anything.

Forge and O'Connors Win In Games Played In YM League

Team Standing

	W.	L.	Pct.
Forge	6	1	.858
O'Connors	5	1	.833
Bakers	4	3	.572
Struthers	1	5	.166
Blomquist	0	6	.000

The Forge and O'Connor combines taking no chances in the Y. M. C. A. League poured it on last night as they took the measure of the Bakers and Bloomquist teams, respectively.

Forge putting all they had into the game including power and men beat a willing but outfought Bakers team into submission by the score of 70-41. Johnny Pawk took high total for the game with 21 points. Rocky Lewis of Bakers was high for that team with 19.

The second game saw the Sheffield Irish copping the game against Blomquist 76-58. Even the inspiration of brand new uniforms did little to help the North Warrenites as they were outploved throughout the entire game. Nick Otto of O'Conners was high scorer with 26 points. Delby Dalrymple for the Furniture makers gathered 22 points for the second high in this game.

Both Forge and O'Connors played as though their lives depended on it, taking no chances of having anything slipped over on them by weaker opposition.

Saturday's games bring together Blomquist and Forge in the opener at 7:00 and O'Connors and Struthers for the finale.

The league will wind up on this coming Monday and will go immediately into the three game playoff for the championship.

Intersectional Play in WPIAL Opens Tonight

Pittsburgh, Feb 25—(AP)—Intersectional play in WPIAL basketball opens in class B tonight with fuor games, while Class A takes care of a bit of unfinished business in two section to determine tournament entrants.

Ford City meets New Kensington in a Section 1 playoff and Aliquippa and Beaver Falls will settle the Section 3 dispute in games at Pitt Stadium tonight that will cut the Class A title contenders into nine.

The Class B picture was clarified somewhat last night when West Newton beat Youngwood, 35 to 23, at Hermine in a Section 24 playoff. Etna faces Sharpsburg at the Stadium tomorrow night in the Section 18 playoff.

Erie East Moves Into District Ten Title

Erie, Feb. 25—(AP)—Erie East High moved into the District 10, PIAA, basketball tornament for the fourth straight year by defeating Erie Academy High, 51 to 40, in a second-half playoff last night. East had won the first half title in a similar playoff with Academy.

East meets Sharon March 14 at Farrell, the victor to meet Warren, section 2 titlist, for the championship.

LAMOTTA FAVORED TO DEFEAT HARRIS AGAIN

Detroit, Feb. 25—(AP)—Jolting Jake La Motta of New York is a 1 to 2 choice to gain his third successive victory over Ossie (Bulldog) Harris of Pittsburgh in a ten-round fight tonight at Olympia Stadium.

But La Motta and his handlers view tonight's affair with considerable uneasiness. That was made clear when the La Motta camp started a pre-fight wrangle over whether Harris would grant a return match within 60 days provided he upsets jolting Jage tonight. It was finally agreed that he would.

TOKYO RADIO ADMITS GARRISONS WIPED OUT

New York, Feb. 25—(AP)—The Tokyo radio acknowledged today that the Japanese garrisons of Kwajalein and Roi islands in the Marshall group, totaling about 4,500 men, had been annihilated by American forces which seized those strongholds early this month.

Broadcasts recorded by the U. S. Foreign Broadcast Intelligence Service quoted imperial headquarters as saying that the last of the Japanese defenders of the islands had died Feb. 6 in a final counter-attack against the invading American troops.
